role play

how to use this list

this yes/no/maybe list is about activities around role play. Having a little fun with role play is a great way to step out of your usual boudoir repertoire.

fill out the list by looking at the roles and the props and deciding what column each fits into. if you're totally up for it (yes), might be keen (maybe) or have a hard pass (no). i've also popped a space for you to add your own ideas. And if you have a partner/s, ask them to fill it out, too.

if you're doing this with a partner/s, once you've completed your list, share it. it will help you explore new activities and help you get the pleasure you want, because life's too short for bad sex.
